

NAMI PA, Main Line has assembled this listing of resources for information about:

- Disability income from the Social Security Administration

Social Security Administration	1 (800) 772-1213	www.ssa.gov For individuals interested in applying for SSDI. Typically denied first time, must file appeal.
Allsup	1 (800) 279-4357	www.allsup.com Non-lawyer representation for applying for SSDI.
211	211	www.211.org Provides referrals to access public benefits, including SSI. Use website to find local number as needed.

- Medicaid and/or Medicare health insurance which is available to disabled individuals

Medicaid and CHIP Coverage on HealthCare.gov	1 (800) 318-2596	www.healthcare.gov/medicaid-chip/getting-medicaid-chip/ Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) provide free or low-cost health coverage to millions of Americans, including some low-income people, families and children, pregnant women, the elderly, and people with disabilities.
Medicare.gov		www.medicare.gov/people-like-me/new-to-medicare/getting-started-with-medicare.html Provides specific info about signing up for Medicare and choosing coverage.
Medicare Rights Center	1 (800) 333-4114	www.medicarerights.org/ Helpline responds to questions about Medicare rights, benefits, income based premium assistance.
211	211	www.211.org Provides referrals to access public benefits, including SSI. Use website to find local number as needed.